

Secret Spots of Columbia: Studying, Printing, & Dining

Created for the Junior Class sponsored Secret Spots Tour Friday April 4th 1p-3p

Lewisohn

- 7th floor tiny study room--roof access.

Dodge

- The view from the eastern and western study carrels in the music library.

-Microwave on first floor.

Journalism bldg.

-Business card services in the basement.

Furnald

-S. Donaldson lounge for queer students.

Lerner

- Ferris Booth commons: dining.

-Find an empty meeting room in Lerner (5th floor).

Weekends are the easiest.

-Lerner party space. If empty grab a big table to spread out.

-The vending machine on the lower level near the piano sells metro cards-- flex points accepted, small discount.

Morton Williams

-Inexpensive meals for breakfast lunch and dinner.

The Interchurch Center

-Corner of 120th St. and Claremont. Cafeteria lunch in the basement is open every weekday between 12p-2p. The food is good and inexpensive. Cash only.

NYPL

-NYPL- Morningside branch- a good place to study that is not full of Columbia heads and they have books that our beloved Butler doesn't have in its stacks. (Broadway and 113th)

Butler

-Butler, 3rd floor, cubbyhole room, up the stairs, 303 mezzanine.

John Jay

-“Hogwarts” dining hall & JJ’s place.

Hartley

-Kosher dinning and Office for flex and dining dollars.

Hamilton

-Hamilton hall, after 8 PM, go up to the seventh floor and find an empty classroom. “Take coffee and/or dinner with you, stretch out, play some music and get your papers WROTE!” -Jake M.-

Kent

-Bottom floor of the stacks at Starr East Asian Library.

-Student Services

Alma Mater

-Hidden owl in the sculpture

Barnard

-A separate Lehman library.

-You must now use the tunnels to access most classrooms during construction.

Math

-Empty computer labs

-Math Help Center

Uris

-Private group study rooms in library

-Uris deli and new espresso bar

Dodge fitness center

-Dodge gym - great track, equipment, sauna, & pool.

Pupin

-Observatory

-2nd Floor Rooms, Pupin Laboratories Building (in the evenings).

Teachers college

- Beautiful, quiet, open late, & group rooms in Russell Hall (reserve online).

Mudd

-The big computer lab in the engineering building and Carlton Lounge.

IAB

-Illy espresso at International Café

-Lehman Library group study rooms

Faculty House

-3rd floor dinning hall. You can get a great warm meal for around $6 and usually bump into your TA’s and professors. (Accepts flex points, credit cards, or cash)

Law School

-Law school library area featuring sun facing mid-century Charles and Ray Eames leather padded aluminum chairs from Herman Miller and Lenfest Café.

St Pauls

-The choir room in St. Pauls. A nice place to sit for some quiet -beautiful stained glass windows.

Avery

-Underground café in Avery has many vegetarian choices and better pastries.

Thank you to GSSC members Brody Berg, Allen, Settle, Eleanor Colley, Brendan Rooney, Jake Matilsky, Monique Long, Melissa Van, Richard Adams, and Karly Curcio for their contribution of intellectual property rights. Thank you also to Dan Leslie Limardo and Jason Marshall.